

Thriving in Remote Healthcare Work

Reading time:

Tom Wilson

Date created: 17/12/2020

Tags: Podcasts | Case Studies | Article | On Demand

13 October 2020 | 19 mins 18 secs

Dr Frank Clark stationed at the Mawson base in Antarctica gives us an insight into his life working in a remote location. Regardless of where you practice in an Australian territory, MIPS can offer you indemnity cover, support and advice. Dr Clark offers his thoughts, not only to doctors considering a more adventurous career, but to junior doctors in general including his five tips to leading a successful life as a healthcare practitioner.

Available on
