

2020 Healthcare Webinar: Addressing Key Challenges and Telehealth

Reading time:

Tom Wilson

Last Modified on 08/05/2024 6:37 pm AEST

What a year this has been for members and for MIPS. A worldwide pandemic, unprecedented community, personal and professional upheavals, and dramatic changes in the delivery of healthcare. For example, the rapid rise of telehealth has probably changed the face of healthcare delivery forever.

During 2020, MIPS has provided members with a raft of virtual risk education content to assist you and your practice through these challenging professional times. This webinar is an opportunity to take stock, review 2020 and self-reflect on some of the important risk education messages that you have chosen, concerning:

- Personal wellbeing
- Telehealth
- Opioid prescribing
- Aged Care

Hear from various presenters including MIPS clinico-legal advisers, subject experts, and our panel solicitors, as we summarise the key education messages on these issues provided over 2020.

Learning objectives

1. Discuss relevant clinico-legal aspects of several key healthcare topics including personal wellbeing, telehealth, opioid prescribing, and aged care.
2. Identify the essential legal and regulatory considerations concerning the above healthcare aspects.
3. Identify effective strategies to assist you appropriately manage the above healthcare aspects.

Presenters

Dr Chris Bolton - Anaesthetist & MIPS Clinico-Legal Adviser

Dr Kym Jenkins - Consultant Psychiatrist

Penelope Eden - Solicitor Minter Ellison

Dr Peter Simpson - MIPS clinico-legal adviser

Watch the webinar

Related articles

CAREER LEADERSHIP PROGRAM >